

Sikh Marriages:

- Some marriages are arranged by parents.
- They are held in the Gurdwara.

Sikhism

Vocabulary

| | |
|-------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------|
| Khalsa | A special group of Sikhs. |
| Guru Nanak | The founder of Sikhism. |
| Langar | Food cooked and served free to anyone who needs it. |
| Guru Grant Sahib | Sikh holy book. |
| Guru | A Sikh teacher. |

What I need to know:

The Langar

- After each service, the Langar is served.
- It symbolises the belief that everyone is equal.

Golden Temple:

- Sikhs believe that God is everywhere.
- Some choose to go on a pilgrimage to Amritsar to worship and see the historic place.

The 5 Ks

| | | | | |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Kesh Never cut their hair.  | Kangha Comb to keep tidy.  | Kara Iron bracelet to always be strong.  | Kirpan Dagger to always value honour and dignity.  | Kachera Special pants as a reminder to be modest.  |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|